A New Start At CHS

We, the Aqua Clara Staff of 1955, are proud to present this record of the school year.

We have tried, on the following pages, to provide a mirror of the year, the happenings, and the people. It is our hope that the reflection is a true one.

We want you to see everything just as you remember it and want to remember it.

This book is more than merely an account of events; our mirror looks into the people of CHS to see how they feel about each reflection.

We will always remember our school year. What stands out most in our minds is not the clubs, the classes, and the students, but what these factors have brought about.

We all were lost the first day of school . . . How could anyone possibly get from Wing A to Wing D in 5 minutes . . . Hurry! Hurry! Hurry! . . . We never see anyone all day . . . Don't walk on the gym floor . . . Let's spend the day in the library . . . Air-conditioning . . . 400 girls in that one locker room? . . . Mud in the parking lot, everyone has to go barefoot . . .

Before the rotation system went into effect, the battle-cry of lunch time was; "Out the doors and down the hall, here they come mauling all."

Hurry! The school bus is leaving . . . Five crinolines under one skirt? . . . Save me a place in line. I wish those people wouldn't cut . . . Everyone has a pink shirt and black trousers . . . The Yankees didn't win the pennant? . . . Yes, my book is overdue. I can't find it anywhere . . .

School's out! And the halls fill with people rushing to their busses; a new experience for many.

Jackie Longstreet, John Harman, Barbara Burton, Phil Tharp, and Zeig Crook show-off the various fads and fashions of the year: rope beads, Seminole shirt, the long-torso look, long-sleeved pullovers, and the football players' much-envied letter jackets.

... What a mob trying to get a ticket for the football game. Mr. Shambaugh stays busy ... The effort of getting to school by 8:15 is compensated by the inspiration of Morning Devotions ... We taught our fingers how to march to music in typing class ... Mr. Nesti's little animals sent the girls screaming down the hall ...

Above: Librarian Evelyn Smith, like all our other competent librarians, is always there to help. Below: Our country will always be strong if its citizens are like these. Butch Christy, the Inter Church Youth Council's president, leads the student congregation in a hymn accompanied by Grace Waterson.

While selling students tickets, Mr. Shambaugh always finds time to laugh.

Perturbed and expectant looks come upon the faces of chemistry students everytime they "make like Pasteur".

Above: These starving students looking as though they are thoroughly enjoying their Thanksgiving dinner are Alice Rogers, Sandy Burton and friends.

Below: Cadets Bill Brownfield and Rodney Olson tell some enthusiastic boys about Citadel on College Day.

Right: At the bonfire and the Homecoming game Queen Virginia Calvin and her court of Patricia Anna, Loretta Fisher, Sandra Peterson, Bambi Holcombe and Joann Walker reigned over CHS.

Wasn't it cold at Homecoming? . . . Our beautiful court was "as blue as the sky on a summer day!" . . . How many college bulletins did you collect? More girls were interested in Citadel . . . Thank goodness for the Thanksgiving holidays! I'll never be able to look another turkey in the eye . . . Do you have a date for both Christmas dances? . . .

Below: All set, you bet!! Betsy Campbell, Shirla Bradford, Carol Singley, Matile Guinand, Kitti Kohrt, and Jan Hendrick, all eager sophomores, try their luck in being a cheerleader for the school year 1955-56.

Above: Exams!! What a horrible experience. Appearing quite determined to get through are; Ronald Schultz, John Barry, Anneve Walker, Norment Pittman, Connie Tuten, and Bainbridge Favel.

At the beginning of the second semester, all those eligible to join LOS GAUCHITOS, and interested in learning more about their Latin American neighbors, join the club. They are, seated; Georgea Ort, Linda Penegar, Mr. Shambaugh, Matile Guinand, and Diane Gates. Standing are; Jan Hendrick, Joan Golson, Gene Sargent, Jackie Boyd, Merry June Jackson, Dede Flemings, Patsy Stearns, Kay Lippincott, Betsy Campbell, Mary Ellen Rusin. Third row; Gilbert McArthur, Ricky Carlson, Don Moriarty, Sam Moyers, Gayle McWhirter, and Frank Murphy.

. . . Another party tonight, Mom! . . . I was going to study for my exams, but . . . Oh! The expressions when semester grades came out; surprise, relief, regret . . . Club initiates were kept miserable wondering about the horrors of informal initiations . . . We were proud of the tornadoes in the District Basketball Tournament . . . Will they ever announce the queen of May Day . . . Who will get cheerleader? They are all so cute! . . . I had such a sunburn I couldn't go to school!

Above: Clarence Vick, Claudia Yowell, Ethel Gattus, and Gary Eubanks enjoy the delights of Senior Skip Day. Below: Gael Regele complains to Connie Tuten of the trials of heels on miles of cement floors. Amused, Pat Dunn looks on the results of Senior Sophistication Day.

Do you have a date for the prom? . . . What color is your dress? . . . Are you planning on an orchid? . . . Whew! No more exams for a whole summer . . . Graduation is an overwhelming feeling, half joy, half regret . . . This is the way 1954-1955 will live in our memories.

A tie just because of Sophistication Day! . . . CHS is proud of the award for demonstrating democratic living . . . Lucky seniors, missing a day of school just for a party! . . .

Our extra-curricular and club activities are a big part of our school life. They teach us to get along with other people. They become a vital part of us. They get into our thoughts, our sleep, our spare time, and our hair. But as we grow into adulthood, these experiences remain with us, and subsequently make us worthwhile adults.

We, The Students Speak.

We, the students of C.H.S., through the Student Council, the Inter Club Council and the Senate were able to express our desires to make the school better. We asked the student government for an honor roll, green benches, and a schedule to go to lunch and we got these things. Through a democratic government we the students speak.

"The meeting will now come to order" and all student council members are ready for business, left to right are Montine Pennington, Effa Jo Bacon, Dick Whiting, Janet McMullen, Herby

The Peoples Choice

Our Student Council is the king pin in our student government. Those of us who are officers were elected by you students but also we have the "top brass" of the major organizations of the school. Our group includes such persons as the presidents of ICC, Senate, and Senior, Junior, and Sophomore classes and editors of the annual and the paper. This year in our new school we could have used more than our one meeting a week with all the problems we had. We also handled school pictures, managed Homecoming, supervised school-wide elections, and published the student handbook.

The Veeps Meet

Inter Club Council is one of the three government bodies at CHS. It is composed of the vice-presidents of each club in the school. We serve in the interests of all the clubs, instead of functioning as a separate organization. Our main project this year has been the financing of benches which are placed at various locations around the school.

The Senators

We, in the Senate, represent you students. Each year, every homeroom elects one senator and an alternate to represent it. We, along with the student council, try to better school life by making needed improvements. This year, since we have moved into our new school, we had lots of problems to work on, such as that rush to lunch and getting benches around school. Each month at our meetings we bring up and try to settle those problems that need attention. We also had charge of the school pictures. Homecoming Dance, and the Red Cross collection.

It happens to the best of us.

As members of the Clearwater chapter of the National Honor Society, we strive to uphold the ideals of the organization. These are character, scholarship, leadership, and service. Invitations are extended twice each year. The initiations are unforgettable; the first is informal, and the second, a formal banquet. In 1955 we had twenty-two members. One of our biggest projects is helping new pupils become acquainted with their teachers and friends at CHS. During College Day we worked as guides. Membership in Honor Society is, to us, an inspiration and an incentive to a better way of life.

Budding Barrymores

We who enjoy various forms of dramatics join Masque and Gavel. Annually, the club presents a play for the student body. This year we did "Papa is All." Some were in the cast while others of us worked on props, make-up, and publicity. Another of our projects was the purchasing of books on speech arts for the speech department. In the spring we gave a dramatic program at a near-by children's hospital. During our regular meetings, various members give skits and readings, then we discuss these forms of writing. Few of us aspire to be dramatic actors or actresses, but we do learn to appreciate this art in our Masque and Gavel meetings.

Optimists

We, the Future Homemakers of America, have accomplished quite a bit this year here at CHS. After attending the District and State Conventions, some of us acted as hostesses at the State Fair in Tampa. One of our favorite memories of the year is a water show at Cypress Gardens. We held meetings twice each month where there were planned programs, such as the meeting when we all brought something of interest from foreign countries. To prepare ourselves as better homemakers is our purpose.

A Tree Grows At CHS

"The grass is always greener on the other side of the fence", bothered us of the Key Club because it applied to our school. Recently completed, our school lacked time and funds to provide for the beautification of its grounds. We planted shrubbery, grass, and trees each day after school with financial aid from our sponsor, the Kiwanis and other civic organizations. We also worked with the Kiwanis during March of Dimes Week on their annual polio funds drive.

Mr. Stephan holds the "barrow full of enrichment material while Don Harwood, Jimmy Clark and Principal Feagle shovel it on.

Richard Drossler proves that a mind for mechanics is needed to keep the reels rolling.

This year we, the members of Audio-Visual, have had a much easier job. There is no need to move the movie equipment from one room to another because we have one especially equipped room in which to show most of the movies. We sent several members to state convention. Then, there are our county meetings which we attend four times a year. Unlike many clubs, we do not have regularly scheduled meetings and only call a meeting in an emergency or to make preparations for special programs. We are assembling a program to provide the best in service to all teachers and activities.

Most people aren't aware of the work we librarians do. In fact they generally realize and see only a few of our activities. Usually the only time they think about us is when they have to pay for those forgotten books. Our chores consist mainly of helping everyone. To help, we keep the library neat and quiet, arrange all books in their proper places and, when asked, direct people to certain books. We also have meetings and conventions to attend. In May we have a convention in Leesburg and there are county meetings twice a year. See, we do other things beside collect money.

Librarian Mrs. Knight and her helper, George Shafer, go about their daily duty of checking in and out books.

Amorous Amigos

To give a real Spanish flavor to our meeting we invited Pepe, the Mexican guest of Audrey Flohe.

We all look forward to Los Gauchos meetings. There are thirty of us and we meet in the homes of members. Minutes, roll, and much of the business conducted in the meetings is in Spanish. Sometimes we play games and sing songs in the language. At Eastertime we sold lilies to raise money for crippled children and during the Christmas season we gave a party for children at the Community Pride Nursery. We think the highlight of the entire year is the banquet in May where the food, decorations, and entertainment are Spanish. Our motto is: Quien much duerme, poco aprende! (He who sleeps much, learns little!)

Latin Lovers

Caesar crosses over to the twentieth century in a radio skit presented in a club meeting program by Linda Fisher, Alice Pishotta, Pat McKenzie and Jackie Boyd.

"Venimus, vidimus, vicimus!" We came, we saw, we conquered. One of the highlights of our years was the invasion of "Spain". (Los Gauchos) At the February meeting of the Spanish Club, we invaded while singing "Gaudeamus Igitur" and took two prisoners. It was all in fun, but we sure surprised those Spaniards. They went around for days mumbling about "those Inter Nos people."

All of our time is not devoted to fun however, we have our more serious projects such as attending the Latin Forum in St. Petersburg this year. Through this club we try to gain a better understanding of the classical language and the customs of those times.

Little Red Guiding Hoods

Just as self-sacrifice and team spirit go hand in hand so go the Usherettes and the Cheerleaders. Working behind the scenes we help support the team by selling ads for programs and decorating the goal posts. Collecting donations for Korean War Orphans was one of our projects. Copping third prize for our float in the Homecoming parade was a big boost to our morale.

Eager to assist, we acted as school hostesses by seating patrons, not only at games, but at Spring Concert, the school dedication, PTA meetings and the football banquet. We stand ready to serve the students in any way possible, from the first home game through the baccalaureate and graduation services.

Serving at the annual football banquet are Beverly Rogero and Jill Kirk.

Red Peppers

We were proud to be the first members of the Clearwater High School Pep Squad. Practices were long and hard but every minute was worth it. Those Friday nights were so much fun! Wearing white turtle-neck sweaters, short red skirts, and white gloves, we joined the cheerleaders in the yells. Sometimes we added our own special arm motions. In our formations on the field we used torches and flashlights. We knew that, as Tornadoettes, we were building school spirit.

Mapping out the next drill for some eager marchers is Co-captain Joan Viano at one of the squad's skull sessions.

And So To Bed

This year we had a wonderful time working on the Annual. Because we were the first staff of the new C. H. S., we had a big job to do. We had to set up good traditions and principles.

Preparations for this Annual began last summer when several of our members attended the Yearbook Institute in Tallahassee.

Kannibal Kapers was a big success put on by the Aralc Auga tribe featuring Aqua Clara Stew. This was our way of announcing that 1955 Annuals were on sale.

"D" DAY was the day we all long awaited as it was the day we all got our Annuals and the pens began to write frantically in our classmates books.

The Student Prints

We are one of the busiest groups in C. H. S. chosen from the Journalism class. We do all make up and writing on the Clearlight, which is published monthly.

Our major project of this year was the changing of the newspaper's name from "Chatter" to "Clearlight". Other projects include the Calendar Girl Contest and the Top Hat Dance. We also submitted the best articles that we wrote to the monthly Florida State Press Association Contest Tournament where they were rated and compared to other Florida High School Newspapers.

Any student with a B average in English may take Journalism.

All hands are outstretched for the eagerly anticipated issues on publication day. Staffer Grace Waterson is distributing the Clearlight.

Patient Preservers

We, the fledgling nurses, journey to Morton Plant Hospital every month for practical experience and training. Not only can we take temperatures and hold hands, we also cheer up the patients with smiles and small talk and take them for buggy rides in their wheel chairs. The sewing of our blue uniforms can also be added to our list of accomplishments. Christmas parties mean a lot to everyone and the party we gave for the patients was no less important. One can see where a practical nurse gets her name. We do practically everything-and everything practically.

Performing one her many duties is Future Nurse Nancy Eben.

Embryo Instructors

To encourage students to become teachers and to stimulate students already interested in the profession is our objective.

We Future Teachers are busy people. We supervise the playground at Skycrest Elementary School, observe teachers at work, and are the guests at a tea given by the elementary teachers.

This is just our second year as an organization and we are looking forward to increasing our membership and our influence.

Job Happy

We of the Diversified Co-operative Training in preparing for our future vocation, have trained for a variety of occupations. The two hours spent in DCT helped us to adjust to our present jobs and gave us an overall view of the business world. Don't think DCT is all work and no play.

Our annual employee-employer banquet and our Halloween party proved to be huge successes. The funds for the annual banquet were earned by selling Christmas Cards. Many of our crew are employed locally at T. V. shops, theatre, and the downtown stores. We'll be seeing you.

And Away We Go

The "Charging Changers" run again. This year we sponsored the first Powder Puff Bowl Game. The Cheerleaders won the game, but all profits were given to us for our trip to Middleton, Kentucky. Besides selling candy, cakes, occasional cards, and Christmas trees, we took care of the concession stand here at school before and after school. Yes, we had many methods of raising money, but we needed them to get to Kentucky.

Thirty-four of us went to Kentucky for two weeks and had a wonderful time. We went to Mammoth Cave and Churchill Downs, where we just missed the Kentucky Derby.

Sarah Upp and Sally Bacon receive last minute instructions from Coach Joe Poanessa before rushing onto the field.

Two hungry fellows support the club by buying some of that delicious candy from Effa Jo Bacon.

Loyal Lassies

We all benefited from the Hi-Teen programs this year. First, we participated in the annual canned food hunt for Clearwater's needy families. Christmas cards were sold to benefit our fund. Of course, we were especially interested in the programs on personal appearance. We heard experts and models at these meetings. We had a grand time planning the Sweetheart Dance, our big money-making project. With our money we will send girls to summer conference in La Grange, Georgia. Through the Hi-Yeens we helped others as we helped ourselves. The officers are as follows: President, Harriette Hemerick; Vice President, Geoffrey Lee; Recording Secretary, Martha Jean Sergeant; Corresponding Secretary, Beverly Powers; Treasurer, Matie Guinand.

Able Assistants

Along with our regular classes, office assistants spend one class period each day helping Mr. Feagle and the school secretaries. We do such things as distribute mail, relay messages to classrooms, answer the telephone, operate the inter-com and switchboard, and compile information for filing. This year, for the first time, we will receive a credit for the course, which is called "Office Practice." All of us feel that we have gained practical knowledge and experience in office procedure, which may prove a great help to us in later years.

Classy Crooners

From the beginning of the year to the very end we are continuously practicing and memorizing new songs. Thanksgiving is usually the first school appearance we make. Sometimes before that, we sing for different civic organizations. Then we start Christmas music. At the Christmas assembly, we reenact the Nativity in song. In January, 16 of us went to Tampa to participate in the All State Chorus. In March we went to Contest. Our Spring Concert was one of the main attractions of the Fun in the Sun Festival. We sang our adieu at Graduation.

Old-fashioned in Modern Day

"Hello, hello again. Sh-boom and hoping we'll meet again." We're sure you recognize that popular ditty, but have you heard it in Italian? We madrigals have been busily translating popular songs into Italian in between clinic, contests, and holiday programs. The word "madrigal" means love ballad. They originated in Italy and were further developed in England. In old times, the family would gather around the spinet in the evening and sing. Under the direction of Paul Butler, we are proud to have been chosen.

Always on the March

We band members wanted very much to take our trip to Washington this year to march in the Cherry blossom Festival. As we lacked sufficient funds for such a trip, our dream seemed to have very little hope of coming true. We told our problem to the public in the way we knew best—with an "On to Washington" concert. We raised the needed currency. But this was just one of the many things we did this year. We played for all the football games, festivals all over Florida, assemblies and numerous civic and private organizations.

It can't always be said of the band that they keep their noses to the grind. They are having a "grand old time" playing for the homecoming parade.

Just Fiddlin' Around

Although the orchestra is an organized group here at CHS, we do not meet every day or have a set day to meet each month. We do, however have rehearsals before every performance. This year we played at the convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. In order to help the band, of which many of us are members, to raise money for their trip to Washington, we played at the On-to-Washington Concert. One of the high points of our year was attending the Holiday for Strings show in Tallahassee in which teachers as well as college students participated.

Any student displaying an interest in some phase of science is welcome to join the Science Club. It was organized several years ago to recognize and encourage scientific interest in students. We have had many worthwhile and interesting projects this year, including a working steam engine, a demonstration of enzyme action, and the making of paper. Field trips are quite frequent also, and we have visited both the Sea Orama and the L. & S. Bait Company here in Clearwater.

Sweater Boys

We of the "C" Club strived throughout this year to keep our standards of sportmanship high and to promote a closer feeling of friendly rivalry at games, not only among the boys who played, but the student and parent body attending. We feel we have accomplished a great deal when we recall the spirit of cooperation that was so prevalent at football and basketball games. We as a team feel we owe a lot to the constant backing of the parents, students, cheerleaders, usherettes, and clubs who worked together to weld us into an unbreakable bond of oneness.

We, the girls and the boys, show off our school in interscholastic sports and at the same time equalize our physical growth with our mental. We are proud of our efforts, and the results this year brought.

Coaches

Growling Gridders

This year we have shown much progress from the other years. Our football team is proud of its record of 5 wins, 4 losses, and 1 tie. Homecoming stands out in our mind as the thrilling game we won in the last few seconds of the playing time. Our complaints were loud and long over our gruelling skull practice and training. It wasn't easy to miss that party, refuse that coke, and take that girl home early. At the banquet we realized that it was worth it. We are proud of our red jackets and letters. We think we earned them, we hope we deserve them, we will always treasure them.

We came into this year handicapped with not enough height or experience. We came out of the year with high heads and proud smiles. There was a lot of work in between. We earnestly believe that we played our best. We are grateful to the student spirit, the cheerleaders, and the coaches. The season was a long hard, uphill climb, but the reward was more than adequate compensation. We could feel the thank-you in the applause of the students as we received our award letters and sweaters.

We are on our way! This year was the dress rehearsal of things to come. We have worked fervently to try to become the team we would like to be. Our contests this year have been a thrilling experience and we are proud of our record. We look forward to the years to come and "A" squad!

Cinder and Diamond Men

When the rest of the world is suffering from spring fever, we are just beginning to work the hardest. Baseball and track practices begin the first of February and continue through the middle of May. We begin our games in March. It's hard to keep those training rules in the midst of spring parties, but we love the thrill of winning, or at least knowing we've done our best. We're proud to be associated with spring athletics, and we hope they are proud of us.

Serve Them Up

Practice! Practice! Practice! was our byword as we members of the tennis team looked forward to a season of love matches against each of our scheduled opponents. However, our dreams went unrealized as we faced stiffer competition in the newly formed Western Conference.

Composed entirely of seniors, both our boys' and girls' teams were amply provided with experienced and eager players drawn from the sixth period class.

The asphalt tennis courts constructed on the campus late in the spring furnished us with a boost to tennis interest by their easy accessibility.

Golf

"Fore!" Not four, but 8 of us are representing CHS on the golf team this year. And do we ever have fun! There is just some kind of a thrill hitting that little ball and knowing that you can place it anywhere you like. It isn't all fun, though. We work hard. It takes a lot of walking to prepare for a 22-game season; and that's what we had this year. Unlike most sports, our practice begins in September and is not over until the last of those 22 games are played. But when we leave, we have something; something we will be able to enjoy and carry with us into our future lives.

Go! Team! Let's Fight!

Dawn Collier and De De Lingo are caught in the act of cheering the Tornadoes on to victory.

Geri Kunnen, captain, leads the fans in a rip-roaring cheer for the fighting team.

"Go! Team, Go!" This is just one of the many cheers we cheerleaders give at pep sessions, football games and basketball games. This year has been filled with "firsts" for us. We introduced the new short-skirted basketball cheering outfits, cheered in the new gym, and held pep sessions in the new auditorium. We also decorated and furnished the room given to us in the gym. We won the first prize in the Homecoming Parade this year with a spooky Jefferson graveyard. Our annual minstrel, in which all connected with athletics participated, was a huge success. All in all, it has been a marvelous year for us Cheerleaders.

Center: Geri Kunnen and Dawn Collier, Co-Captains. Back to Front: Sandy Clendenon, Zoann Holt, Tudi Mason, Effa Jo

Swish! Another Basket!

During this, another of our successful years, we, the girls' basketball team of CHS, have had lots of fun and have improved our sportsmanship through our playing.

Although we put in many hard hours of practice, we aren't complaining. We like to believe that basketball, or any other sport, for that matter, helps develop us both mentally and physically and rounds out our personalities.

With the help of our coach, Miss Annie Lou O'Grady, we have chalked up many victories over our competitive neighbors. Knowing and playing with our teammates has been both a wonderful and educational experience. Those of us who are graduating regret that we won't be able to play another game for dear old CHS; but those of us who will be here another year are looking forward to other victories.

A Guard Shoots?

No—don't be deceived by the appearance of the picture. Myra Kleckner, guard, is shown ready, willing, and able to retrieve the ball after a forward has failed to make that hard-fought basket. Others intently waiting for the ball are (back to front) Judy Millner, forward; Sally Benbow, forward; Laddy Lucas, guard; Helen Forest, forward.

Ready—Set—Go!

These words are familiar to the swimming team, as they line up for a speedy swim. Under the direction of Coach George Symons, the team is ready to make a jump for the clear, blue water ahead.

Another Basket?

A Healthy Body

Romping on the football field for their daily exercise is Coach Herb Dudley's sixth period physical education class. Some are running laps, others resting after exercising. A good mind and a healthy body are typical of the students of CHS, and this picture shows that we do have a good class program.

Our school is not a building; it is people; teachers, staff, students. We are the material that makes the school strong and lasting, without us the finest building would be lifeless.

As Faculty and Staff, we recognize the wealth of leadership in our Principal William B. Feagle, Assistant Principal Guss Sakkis, and Dean of Girls Elsie Pat Myers.

Plant Of Opportunity: Staff Of Experience

We accept the challenge! We pledge ourselves to give our best! Our challenge is to project our knowledge, our strength, our effort, our skill and our wisdom to the development of the highest type of citizen for our country.

We are destined to use the pliable gold in our hands! Will it be a cross dedicated for humanity or an idol to false ideals.

Doing the paper work for CHS are Mrs. Maud Simpson, bookkeeper, Mrs. Emma Roberts and Mrs. Elizabeth Heimert, secretaries.

Mr. Perry and Mr. Maxwell, our custodians, keep the plant running smoothly by supervising such things as the heating and air-conditioning systems, yard work, cleaning of the buildings, etc.

Mrs. McKenzie, our dietician, supervises the planning and preparation of good food in the cafeteria for the student and faculty.

Seniors review accomplishments.

As we salute our community, we are becoming a part of it. Our senior year is the last step between childhood and adulthood, adolescence and maturity. We've learned a lot during this year, most of all we've come to realize that we don't know everything; we have just a taste of what there is to learn. We will leave our friends to go many ways, into many different lives, but as we grow older we'll always remember our Senior Year, and with these memories we will remain forever young in heart.

Juniors Reminisce With Foresight

The Junior Class—we're not the babies, or the most high, but we're into everything. All the clubs consider us a vital part. The athletic contests, the classes, the dances, the assemblies, are all important to us and we to them. We sponsored a football dance right away. And weren't our boys great in those football, basketball, and baseball games! The Masque and Gave Play, the Student Council, National Honor Society—we were there! Our own favorite junior reigned at May Day. Oh! The Prom! The headaches, the disasters, the final thrill! Didn't we honor the seniors grandly!

Remember when we ordered our rings, the first taste of senior life. We loved our junior year; we'll always cherish it, but we're looking ahead with light and starry eyes. We've reached the final turn, we're nearly there. We've been discouraged, disheartened, nearly given up, but not quite, we've held on. And now as we look back with dim eyes, we step ahead with brand new dreams. We did! We're there! We're Seniors!

Sophomores Look Ahead With High Hopes

Our Sophomore year, — it was just as we anticipated only lots more fun and not nearly so frightening.

We practically took over the Pep Squad right from the first. We joined all the clubs and became very active in them. We were asked to be in the assemblies and floorshows. We sponsored a dance and used the proceeds to decorate for Baccalaureate. At the end of the year we were candidates for offices in Student Council, clubs, cheer-leading. Our boys played very hard on the junior varsity teams.

And now its all behind us. It is hard to grasp all we were given. We are being swept into our junior year with its opportunities and its responsibilities. The security of a helping hand will be missed by all of us. We will try to be helpful to the new Sophomores when we become Juniors.

We salute our community! It not only stands behind our school; it stands behind us. The many businesses in our area have voiced their full-hearted faith in us with their advertisements. Our parents, our employers, our merchants, and our friends, the people we meet every day, to these we owe a full measure of gratitude for their trust and support.
